

Pandemicflu.gov: One-stop access to U.S. government avian and pandemic flu information

The screenshot shows the PandemicFlu.gov website in a Windows Internet Explorer browser. The address bar displays 'http://pandemicflu.gov/index.html'. The website header includes the logos for 'PandemicFlu.gov' and 'AvianFlu.gov', along with a search bar and a link to 'Questions & Answers PandemicFlu.gov en Español'. Below the header, there is a navigation menu with tabs for 'Federal Planning', 'State & Local Planning', 'Individual Planning', 'Business Planning', 'School Planning', 'Health Care Planning', and 'Community Planning'. The main content area is divided into several sections: 'General Information' with a link to 'Flu terms defined', 'News' with several announcements, and 'Public Engagement Meetings' with details about upcoming public meetings. A sidebar on the left contains a list of navigation links such as 'Pandemic Flu Home', 'Where You Live', 'Questions & Answers', etc. The bottom of the browser window shows the Windows taskbar with several open applications.

Flu terms defined

Website available in Spanish

Information about public meetings on the issue

Included in website:

- Overview of federal, state, individual, school, business, and community planning and response activities for pandemic flu.
- Interactive map with links to state pandemic planning information, state pandemic Web site information, and local state contacts.
- Sample public service announcement about pandemic flu.
- Overview of the economic impacts of pandemic flu.
- Information about the global coordination activities occurring regarding pandemic flu.
- Guidelines for international travel in areas affected by avian flu.
- A glossary providing explanations of many terms and acronyms used throughout the site.
- A newsroom which gives access to past home page news items, news releases, speeches, and testimonies, gathered from federal agencies with avian and pandemic responsibilities and from international organizations.

Website managed by the Department of Health and Human Services