

Who Needs Vaccination Against Pneumococcal Disease?

People with Medicare

For most people, one vaccination after age 65 provides a lifetime of protection from this serious lung disease.

Most people with Medicare haven't gotten their pneumococcal shot.

Have you?

(Source: Medicare Claims. For more information on Medicare Prevention visit www.medicare.gov)